I admit and confess to God my sin of _____.

My sin is ever before me but I plead the blood of Jesus, my Savior, to cover this sin. God's Word says that if I confess my sin, God is faithful and just to forgive my sin and to cleanse me of all unrighteousness.

I fully accept and trust that this sin has been forgiven because God has said my sins are removed as far as the east is from the west. I thank God that He has not given us what we deserve; nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

I turn all things over to You, Lord, knowing that you are my strong habitation where I can continually hide. You have given a command that I am to be saved, since you are my rock and my fortress.

I will keep seeking You because You are a very present help in time of trouble. I know that the battle is not won by might, nor power but by Your Spirit. I am trusting in Your words to me which say that the weapons I use are not of this earth but are mighty to the pulling down of strongholds.

I am casting down all imaginations and anything which exalts itself against the knowledge of God. I am at this moment taking captive every thought to the obedience of Christ. Remind me of Your Words and show me what I should be thinking. I trust only in You and not in myself.

I claim God's promise that no weapon formed against me can prosper. God's Word says that I am more than a conqueror and that I am free from condemnation and accusations from the enemy.

I resist any temptations which will lead me back into a pit of guilt and shame. I can do this because greater is He that is within me than he that is in the world. I am reminding myself that when I resist the devil he MUST flee from me.

I understand that no one falls unless they are drawn away by their own desires. I purpose to exchange the good things that God has for me in place of the things that I think I want.
